Passionate about people and passionate about space

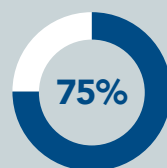

Your projects.
Our specialists.

We are

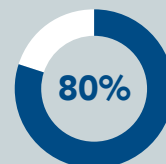

- an international end-to-end contracting company focused on the space sector and part of SpaceForce with CS and Sopra Steria.
- dedicated to supporting your business by matching your needs with available space talents.
- well-known for providing customised services through the phases of your projects and programmes.
- supporting the European space market for over 40 years.
- collaborating with institutional space organisations, major space companies, and New Space start-ups.
- caring about our employees, improving their professional and personal development as well as their work-life balance.
- a team that shares first-hand experience of space.

" My daily work is to make people happy: customers realising their projects with the best employees and candidates landing their dream job. There is nothing better. "
